Scenes of the Past

SCENES OF THE PAST were re-enacted on the Spreman farm recently when Walter and Elmer Elmer, up the old threshing rig and used it to thresh part of their wheat crop. The Spreman, Allan the father, Elmer and Walter sons, farm a total of 1200 acres with 800 acres being about a mile south-west of Olds. They have a full line of modern machinery, and at the same time have a strong yen for antique equipment. A number of years ago they acquired a 2245 H.P. case steam engine. This unit was built in 1922 and is reported to be the last new one to be sold in this province.

Case separates are a steel, 30-55 and came to Alberta in 1908. It is reported to have seen service practically every year during harvest since that time. Each fall, just for the thrill of it, Spreman bind and stock about 50 acres of their crop just so they can give the old outfit another run. The day was an ideal sunny day for this effort.

Following several announcements over the radio, people from far and wide trekked to the Spreman farm to watch this superb old outfit at work. Both the engine and separator have been restored to "like new" condition.

Old-timers who had themselves in the past operated steam equipment, took turns stoking the fire, adjusting steam pressures, pulling the dual tone whistles, while the rest of the spectators took pictures, watched and visited. Upon being asked about the capacity of this outfit, Walter said that in 1908 it had a capacity of 4000 bushels of wheat per day. In oats it could turn out 700 bushels per hour. It was interesting to see all the equipment they had assembled to do this job. There were three rack wagons 10 x 20 each pulled by a tractor. A stock loader also pulled by another tractor. A truck filled with water tank to haul the water for the steamers. Another large truck with a grain box into which the wheat was being threshed. Three "Spike-pitchers" were working feverishly to satisfy the appetite of this hungry behemoth of "Prehistoric days."

Mr. and Mrs. D. Stair, Marilyn, Linda and Donnie were Sundre visitors Saturday.

Evidently there is some road work going on west of the first ford on the Fallen Timber if a large patrol, a large Caterpillar and two bunk houses and a visit from Mr. Knights are any indication.

We wish to extend a "thank you" to Mrs. Jennie Dick who for many years carried on the work of Janitress at the school. Thank you, Jennie.

FLAG OUT OF POSITION ?

Did anyone but ourselves notice that the flag above the local telephone office has been flying upside down for some time now. The way we understand it a flag flying upside down is a sign of distress.

Alf Studer Leaves To Take Up Residence At The Coast

LINK WITH THE PAST BEING SEVERED: Mr. A. G. Studer, one of the few Old merchants living in Didsbury is moving at the weekend to take up residence with his son Cecil, in Vancouver. Mr. Studer, known locally to every one as "Alf," came to Didsbury on April 13, 1901. He engaged in retail merchandising continuously in Didsbury from that date until 1944.

During those years Mr. Studer occupied three different store premises. In 1914, after the disastrous fire which cleaned out two full blocks on the main street, Mr. Studer resided with a fine brick structure on the spot that was to be his premises during the remainder of his business career in Didsbury.

Mr. Studer, whose memory at the age of 82, can vividly recall most of the highlights of nearly a lifetime spent in the business of furniture, drygoods, groceries, men's wear, and for several years he was the local undertaker. On several occasions he did some "punch hitting" as a dentist.

His memoirs recount the days when he sold butter for 10 cents a pound and shoes for $1.50 per pair. In those early pioneer days the sale of cream separators, sewing machines, paint and some hardware comprised a good share of the business. Mr. Studer was a general merchant in the real sense of the word.

An only son, Cecil was associated with his father in business from 1925 to 1930. Cecil then entered a C.P.A. and rose through the ranks until at present he is in charge of the Vancouver office of the Dominion Governments Excise Audit Department of Finance.

Mr. Studer also has two daughters, Mrs. H. L. Stewart of Vancouver and Mrs. M. S. Beveridge of Holden, Alberta.

In 1931 the grocery department was sold to Mr. (Dad) Halliday and Howard Halliday still operates the original business but in a different building in Didsbury. Mr. Studer continued in business until 1944 when he sold the business to Darling Ladies Wear of Wetaskiwin. In 1946 he sold the building he had built in 1914 to Mr. Harry McCulloch.

WEST NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Elktion Willing Workers held their October meeting at the home of Mrs. A. L. Hogg. The afternoon was spent in cutting quilt blocks and making flowers. Lunch was served by the hostess and the co-hostess Mrs. J. Bushman.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cowitz were Calgary visitors on Saturday and later spent the evening with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hogg.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hogg and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hogg also Mr. and Mrs. L. McLeander visited with Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hogg in Calgary on Sunday, as they are moving at the end of the month to make their home in Lethbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Befus of Calgary were weekend visitors in the district.

With his career in active business at an end in 1946 "Alf" had more time to devote to his hobbies so fishing and shooting and just plain "hiking." For many years this grand old pioneer devoted a good deal of his time walking around the countryside just for fun and health sake. It was common to walk ten or more miles in a day he recalls.

Another interesting accomplishment in the life of his colorful career took place in 1922. Having been plagued with a very bad case of eczema, Mr. Studer decided to do something about it, so he proclaimed a fast that lasted 40 days. His weight dropped 147 to less than 100 pounds but it completely cured him of the skin disease. Incidentally his inclination towards being a "worry wart" was also cured. He has enjoyed exceptionally good health ever since that time.

In 1929 Mr. Studer died, but even this crushing blow was taken in good grace and the cheery smile and twinkle in his eye that has been synonymous with his name continued to be his heritage even down to the present day.

In October of 1939 Mr. Studer went east and picked up a new Mercury at Windsor driving it back to Didsbury. That car became a part of the family and he kept it until it was sold by auction with his other goods on October 22. That car, being better than 15 years old sold for $390.00.

Didsbury is going to sadly miss the cheery smile and pleasant word of this grand old man but it is the sincere desire of everyone who ever knew "Alf" that he will have a most pleasant sunset of life and be granted many more years to enjoy well deserved retirement as he goes to live in Vancouver near his son.

Church Celebrates Anniversary

On Sunday, October 30, Redeemer Lutheran Church will commemorate two events; first, the high anniversary of the dedication of the Redeemer church building, and second, the 438th anniversary of the Reformation.

Pastor Fox speaking on the theme "Contentious for the Faith" will say: "the faith that Luther contended for was not the faith of doctrine of men, not some grand system of philosophy, or some elaborate work of schoolmen, but the faith which was once delivered unto the saints." This faith, as is well known, is contained in the Bible. To this end, Redeemer Lutheran Church was organized and accordingly its church building dedicated. The Pastor will urge the members to be on the guard lest they be robbed of this priceless heritage.

To watch against errors and perversities of God's Word; to follow only those who preach and practice God's whole word and who do not deviate or compromise in their teachings, even though men mock and sneer and laugh and call these things old fashioned and antiquated. #### LET'S AVOID DEPRESSION PRICES

J. H. Wilson of Indian Head, Saskatchewan, has gone off the deep end again. Last winter while in the United Kingdom he is reported to have stated that he is able to grow wheat at a cost of 50 cents a bushel, that on poor land the cost would be in the neighborhood of 65 cents a bushel and that any farmer growing wheat at a cost of 70 cents should not be growing it at all. The great majority of prairie farmers know that it costs them more than that to grow wheat these days.

Recently the same Mr. Wilson, in a letter published in an eastern paper, said in connection with Canada's wheat marketing problem: "Our best way out is the farmer's friend, the old reliable Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Tie it in with the Liverpool Exchange and Rotterdam. With present Canadian surpluses, floor price $1.25 Fort William, I believe we would sell 350 million bushels this crop year ... The Winnipeg Grain Exchange might clean up this grain mess in two years."

What Mr. Wilson must surely know is that if prairie farmers went their wheat to be sold at "bargain-basement" prices the Wheat Board could do it just as well as the open, speculative market, though it is true the Board hasn't had as much practice at it. However, it was to avoid depression prices and to bring stability to the grain market that prairie farmers, after years of bitter struggle finally persuaded the federal government to set up the Wheat Board.

Mr. Wilson must also know that cutting prices doesn't necessarily mean greater sales. Experience has shown that people eat little, if any more bread, when wheat is cheap. Low prices would only mean the change of ownership of grain into the hands of speculators, or possibly importing countries for stockpiling, where it would still remain a burden on the market and restrict future sales. It would more than likely remain in exactly the same storage space that it now occupies until the time came for its consumption. The problem of wheat disposal would be fairly simple if Canada alone had surplus wheat. But the United States, Argentina, Australia, France and Turkey all have sizeable stocks which they too wish to dispose of, and they would likely retain their percentage of sales in any price war. Canada as a nation would not benefit from price war, and prairie farmers would surely be the big losers.

BERGEN NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Bergen school children had a holiday on Friday afternoon recently when the interior of the school building was redecorated. The lovely shades of blue and yellow are a nice change from the traditional white. Mrs. L. Rateliff has entered the hospital for an operation.

The children on the local school bus were treated to a lovely sight one morning when a mother doe and her fawn crossed the road in front of the bus.

The community hospital bed has been loaned to the Didsbury Senior Citizens home.

Two different seismograph crews were working in the district this week.

We all see that a new road has been built east of the Schmit place, presumably leading to the new oil well in that area.

Many local people have been the victim of the flu bug.

Flushed with anger a man burst into an electrical shop. "Didn't I ask you to fix the front door bell that's been out of order?" "I'm certain we did," replied the manager. "Yes, sir, I went there all right and raised the doorbell for ten minutes, but nobody answered. Guess there wasn't anybody at home."

NEW WHEAT POLICY

Within a month or so the Federal Government will announce a new wheat policy which, it is claimed, will answer present criticisms. That promise came from Finance Minister Harris at a political meeting in Toronto.

There may be some surprise at the government choice of speaker and place for such an announcement, but there will be none at all at the news that a new wheat policy is coming. A completely new policy has been needed and needed urgently for a long time.

We are not moving and selling wheat nearly as fast as we are producing it. We are losing our place as the world's biggest exporter. If we don't do something soon, a large part of Canada and an important

AUTO INSURANCE CUTS

The expected 10% cut in next year's auto insurance premiums could be only the first of many rate decreases, says The Financial Post. The auto makers' increased emphasis on safety attachments and the leveled off cost of accident repairs will keep cutting claim totals.

STRANGLE IT

segment of the national economy are going to suffer seriously.

TIME FLIES

A rather devout lady, who owned a swearing parrot was in the habit of keeping the parrot's cage covered up all day Sunday to silence the bird. One Monday afternoon, glancing out the window, she saw the minister coming up the front walk. Hastily she threw the cover over the parrot's cage, and went to answer the door bell.

"Why, good afternoon. Reverend, won't you come in?"

"Good afternoon," said the minister, entering the parlor. "Lovely weather we've been having lately, isn't it?"

Came a husky voice from the parrot's cage. "All I can say is, it's been a helluva short week."

F.U.A. DELEGATION MEETS

HON. J. G. GARDINER

A delegation of five officials of the F.U.A. headed by C. J. Stimpke, F.U.A. Vice-president, and including Mr. S. A. Sanford, Mr. E. Nelson, Mr. O. Hittinger and Mr. W. Logan, interviewed the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture in the McDonald Hotel at 11:30 a.m. on October 19th.

The question discussed was the floor price on hogs as well as the cattle price. The talk centered around the stability in hog prices. It was finally agreed the price of hogs largely depended on prices in the U.S.A. which are at present about 6c per pound below Canadian prices. Also at present there is an embargo on U.S.A. hogs which is expected to remain in effect until April 1, 1956. The floor price on hogs at present in Alberta is $18.50 cwt. Mr. Gardiner further intimated that he didn't anticipate any great break in cattle prices as long as the American price remained fairly stable.

"Exercise Lifesaver" to enroll 5,000 New Blood Donors in Calgary is getting underway shortly. During the winter months Calgary supplies all the blood for Southern Alberta Hospitals. During the summer the mobile team collects from towns and country. Your opportunity to contribute to this great service for others will be on November 17th.

So far this year the Didsbury Hospital has received 122 bottles of blood. No doubt someone you know has received the benefit. November 17th would be a good day to make this gift available to someone else.

The desire for the well-being of one's own nation can be—and must be—made compatible with the welfare of all humanity.

Nov. 15 Set For Aid Start

Prairie farmers—many of them grain-rich but dollars poor—will be able to obtain bank loans starting November 15 with the use of farm-held grain as security.

The government paved the way Wednesday by agreeing to protect the banks against complete loss in the event farmers are unable to repay the loans.

Details of how the scheme will work, including interest charges, maximum size of individual loans and when they must be repaid, now are being worked out by the government and banks. An announcement will follow as soon as arrangements are completed.

But Trade Minister Howe dropped a hint of how the arrangements will develop. He said they will be "somewhat similar" to those made in 1951 when the government guaranteed bank loans to Prairie producers with unthreshed grain as security.

In the current case, of course, there will be loans only on threshed grain, since virtually all the Prairie crop has been harvested. There also may be other variations—particularly in the interest rate.

In 1951, the maximum individual loan was fixed at $1,000 and the interest rate at 5½ per cent. Prairie spokesmen have complained that the 1951 rate was too high. It should be reduced or eliminated if possible.

Undoubtedly, the government will seek a lower rate, but it is a question of whether the banks will agree at a time when interest rates generally appear to be rising.

In 1951, the government guaranteed repayment of 25 per cent of

LIGHTS OUT

The pastor read the following text at the evening service: "The light of wicked shall be put out."

Instantly there was a clap of thunder and the church was plunged in darkness. With hardly a pause, the person went on: "Because of this startling fulfillment of this prophecy, the next few minutes will be spent in silent prayer for the power company."

total loans, pinning a ceiling of $20,000,000 as the total the banks could lend under the scheme.

The ceiling proved unnecessary. Only 1,500 farmers floated loans which totaled $525,000. Some said they experienced difficulty in negotiating with the banks.

The scarcity of cash has turned into a critical Prairie problem. Prime Minister St. Laurent said it was discussed at a morning cabinet session as "an urgent matter."

Canada holds stocks of grain. Marketing prospects are none too bright. As to July 31, prairie farmers held about 200,000,000 bushels of grain on their farms, about one-half in wheat. Canada is facing keen competition from the United States and other countries in searching for marketing outlets. Currently Canada hold almost 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat, one-half from the 1955 harvest. Elevators and other storage points are reported to be jammed with grain.

Ramblin' . . .

This week we've decided to go along with a few of our likes and dislikes. Take 'em or leave 'em alone — let's go!!!

WE LIKE the idea (strictly a rumor at the moment) that the Memorial Arena will operate again this year as an ice palace and not a wheat bin!

WE ALSO LIKE the tentative plan to have a hockey team (with local players) in a league that we can afford!

WE LIKE the rumors mentioned above — should the arena operate in this manner it sure will be fun for us not having to arrange a skating rink in our own back yard. (We're not famous for overwork, manually that is.)

WE LIKE the devious expression on the face of our local hospital matron when she shaves (we use the word loosely) a chest and plasters on adhesive for broken ribs. We do wish she could get a new model; how much hair and how many ribs does she think I have?

WE LIKE the co-operation we have received in our change-over to a new publishing day — may it be the same each time around!

WE LIKE TV, so does our daughter; we've learned more about "Lassie" and "Hopalong Cassidy" than we thought was possible in so few lessons. (Who gave us the idea these programs were just for the kids?)

WE DISLIKE people who are so prone to criticize and then look the other way when they are asked to back up their claims!

WE DISLIKE having to explain to people more than once that it takes a few more hours than they think to put out your paper. (You can get a can of beans off the shelf in a matter of moments, but it takes us more than a few moments, more than a small piece of effort, to set the type, make up the pages, print said pages, fold the pages, mail the pages, and finally get these pages to you — with the price of the beans we were talking about a little earlier. — and we do like beans.

WE DISLIKE having to be told something has been left out of your paper which would have been of interest to you or your neighbors. Without the co-operation of those concerned there is little we can do about it . . . after all we can only cover so much ground in a day . . . talk to only a portion of those who may have interesting news on the tip of their tongue. Our phone number is in the book — we enjoy hearing from you!

WE DISLIKE having to stop talking about our likes and dislikes, but the page you are reading has only so many inches and we have to get some advertising in here some place. After all, today is pay day!

By The Way

Contributed by
REV. T. J. STAINTON, M.A.

"ROAD SIGNS"
A little boy had been corrected by his father for doing what he had been told not to do. Sometime later the boy asked, "Was Adam the first boy, mamma?" "Yes, dear," "Did he have any papa?" "No dear," "Gee," said the boy, but he was lucky. Whether mamma's answer was right or not, this we do know. Adam paid dearly for ignoring life's most necessary road sign; namely "Don't." So has every other person who has disobeyed that sign since. Obedience is the price we must pay for home and happiness; order in society, peace and progress, the joy of worship and the triumphs of faith. "New times" mean new duties and make necessary many new "don'ts." Before we had roads we had no need of highway traffic laws, car licenses or bus tickets. Road signs do not create accidents and smash-ups, but the disregard for road signs do. "Don'ts" are in the majority of cases, the marks of progress along the road side of life's highway. We can expect to get rid of laws and forces that prohibit, only when we are willing to delay progress. We can avoid the growing increase in wrong doing, law breaking and crime, by becoming progressive enough to become a law abiding people.

Much that is not wrong among animals is not right in human society. There are "don'ts" however to be observed even among the beast. Papa bear punishes his offspring severely for doing what is not bear-like. Among the tribes of primitive people there are things that are just not done, and here also disobedience is punished. The farther and faster civilization moves, from the primitive toward the future, the more apparent becomes the need for guarded standards of human action, in the best interests of society as a whole.

On a frontier homestead a man fed his hoes within a few feet of his kitchen door. There were no near neighbors. There was no law to forbid, only the law of nature. He soon found himself in the grip of a deadly disease that thrives on dirt. Our missionaries have found places where the village garbage was dumped in the streets. Always under such living conditions people "die like flies." Cleanliness is next to Godliness. There is always need for laws to control life's enemies.

However this is not man's whole job. Everywhere there is a new "don't" there is also a new "do." "Do this and live." The outworn must be replaced by the new. The new must be protected. One person builds a neat home plants trees and flowers, perfects a lawn. Others follow this example. This makes for a better town and better home life. Here law becomes necessary to protect these gains, from being destroyed by the indifferent, the careless and the greedy. The same principle holds in our moral and spiritual lives. The nearer we follow the ideals and teachings of Jesus, the longer becomes the list of the things we cannot do in His name, and at the same time the greater becomes the number of things we enjoy doing with Him.

Famous Company To Appear Here

Cameras are turning in Vancouver on a group of Shakespearean actors, shortly to appear in Didsbury. The National Film Board of Canada is shooting a film on the activities of the now well known Lancaster Theatre Company, which, for the third season is presenting live performances of Shakespearean drama to the High Schools and communities of the Western Provinces.

The film, half an hour in length will be seen across Canada by television set owners, with the possibility of its being adapted to the rural circuit of Canada's world famous N.F.B.

Appearing in the cast of Julius Caesar will be several top Canadian actors. Bud Slater, youthful star of many radio dramas heard over the CBC Trans-Canada network is portraying Marc Antony. Dale McDonald, veteran actor recently with the Canadian Repertory Theatre is playing Caesar, whilst Alan Callou, who at one time had his own company in Cairo, Egypt, and Jerusalem, besides acting experiences in England and Canada makes a vital and imposing Brutus. Others in the cast include Tom Lucas, Ernie Fox, Richard Keefe, David Barnes, Julie Mason, and Bud Cummings.

The film script was written by Jack Ammons, formerly comedian with the Lancaster Company, and is one time a member of the National Film Board. It is the story of a group of travelling players, preparing and presenting Shakespeare to Canadian Schools.

The selection of Julius Caesar is a fortunate one as it is packed with action, drama and passion. Some of the greatest dialogue in Shakespeare occurs throughout. The Didsbury High School Students' Union will present this professional acting group on 1st of November at the high school auditorium. Tickets are available now through high school students.

Freedom in a democracy is the glory of the state and therefore, only in a democracy will the free man of nature design to dwell.

— Plato

Jesus did not set out to brand the best acts of the best people of His day as sins. He did proclaim a much higher standard of living for all classes of people. He proclaimed a way of life enriched with Grace, Love and the forgiveness of God. It is said of Emerson, that he increased his effectiveness by observing his limitations. Jesus increased life's effectiveness, and life's satisfactions, by defeating life's enemies, and by branding life's wrong choices and harmful actions as sin, and sin is always destructive.

How many things we do would be left undone, and how many things we leave undone would be done in ever increasing numbers, and done joyfully if we each took the simple teachings of Jesus seriously. What a difference it would make if we each lived as we desire our children and our grandchildren to live. Are we seeking to do always, such things as mature the best in ourselves and in the lives of those we so dearly love. "Where sin abounds, grace does much more abound." we can all grow in grace, and in that knowledge and that love that never fails.

Mr. W. H. Snyder was surprised recently by thirty-five of his family at a birthday party at Eric Goodings.

of Mr. Stevens, Mrs. C. J. Wright, son lives in Innisfail.

Mr. Stevens and his brush cutter, which had many of the fine points of machining, formed an excellent chapter in history of pioneer days. A son Robert Stevens can be seen standing next to the brush cutter.

TREE PLANTING: You may wonder why I am talking about tree planting this time of the year but there is a definite purpose in it. Quite a number of people have trees in order for planting next spring. This letter is particularly directed to them and also to those who may contemplate planting trees in another year. We have been finding on a number of occasions that ground was not sufficiently well prepared to meet with the requirements set down by the Department of Agriculture who are supplying the trees free of charge. Land that has any quick grass or thistles is not acceptable and must be summer-fallowed until all perennial weeds are completely removed. It is still time this fall for you to examine and if need be give that ground one more working before freeze-up. I have been instructed to inspect these plots that have been prepared for next year's planting and if they do not measure up to departmental requirements there is a strong possibility that your tree order for 1956 may be cancelled, and you be asked to summer-fallow the ground one more year before trees are supplied. It is impossible to over-emphasize the value of having the ground intended for tree planting adequately prepared. You will save yourself many hours of strenuous hoeing or cultivating if your ground is free of weeds before the trees are planted.

Donors Wanted!

During the first six months of this year Southern Alberta hospitals were supplied with 11,310 bottles of blood from the Calgary depot. This was an increase of 1287 or 12% over the same period in 1954. Hospital needs can only be met by donors attending clinics when the mobile team can get to your town. A Blood Donor Clinic has now been scheduled for Didsbury on Thursday, November 17th from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Evangelical Church and donors from town and country are needed. The Red Cross supplies blood free to everyone in need in this province, but it is very dependent on the goodwill of voluntary donors in attendance at their nearest clinic. Expenses of the mobile clinic is the same whether 100 or 200 donors attend, but obviously the cost of collection per bottle is cut in half at a 200 donor clinic. Every donor is needed at this clinic. Every bottle is very important to someone.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The way to overcome sin — its causes as well as its effects — through the understanding of God, will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday. Key-note the Lesson-Sermon "Everlasting Punishment" is the Golden Text from Ezekiel (18: 20): "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die," saith the Lord God; and not that he should return from his ways and live. Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following: "Divine Love corrects and governs man . . . Every supposed pleasure in sin will furnish more than its equivalent of pain, until belief in material life and sin is destroyed" (p. 3 only, 12-14). Scriptural readings include the following (Psalms 37: 27): "Depart from evil and do good; and dwell for evermore."

Stampeders Talk

By Ray Quay

CALGARY — At least from a Calgary standpoint, no one can argue the advantage of overtime. The Stampeders have played only four home games and two of them have been decided in the extra sudden-death session.

The Cowboys won the first one, but dropped last Saturday's outing to the surging Winnipeg Warriors 4-4. Despite the loss, the fans should have gone home satisfied, not only because the extra play produced a winner but also because the game was a good one with both teams giving it all their worth.

Another thrilling past witnessed for the first time locally Saturday, was where a team is two men short. The Stampeders had four men against six for 25 seconds in the first period, but the Warriors were unable to gain anything by it.

The 4,651 fans in attendance counted the season's total to 16,370 an average of 4,092 per game. Coach Frank Currie cut two players this past week to comply with league regulations. One was Fred Skakmoose, who decided to go back to the reservation North of Saskatoon, at least temporarily, and the other was defenceman, Pat Cornish, who operates a Real Estate business in Calgary.

Currie was undecided as to whether to keep five defencemen and nine forwards or four defencemen and 10 forwards. He finally decided on the latter move because he can always shift Bill Shvetz back of the blue line should the occasion arise.

Fred Hueb, a young fellow who jumped to Chicago Black Hawks from Moose Jaw Canucks while still of junior age, is proving the best of the Calgary defence corps at this stage and, at the present rate, could well qualify for an all-star berth at the end of the season. There are many good defencemen in the league, but few have as much drive and hustle, combined with ability.

The demise of the Junior Bulldogs from the Western Junior League a couple of campaigns back gave many people the impression that Calgary was short on hockey talent.

Well, take a look at this. The six-team Community Junior League has started practices. The sides have been picked, all the teams have at least 30 prospects in camp, some of them have more than 40 youngsters trying for berths.

The season will start early in November with the kids given 37 nights in the spacious Stampede Corral. There'll be three games each scheduled night, all for a quarter, and the competition should be keen and the interest high. Results from this program should be in evidence within a couple of campaigns.

In the final analysis there is no other solution to man's progress but the day's honest work, the day's honest decisions, the day's generous utterances and the day's good deed.

Safety Sam Says..

GIVE THE OTHER DRIVER A BREAK —
LET HIM THROUGH the LINE of TRAFFIC

It is a common sight, during rush hours particularly, to see cars entering intersections from side streets forced to sit and wait for a courteous driver to let them through or into the traffic.

Sometimes, too, a driver in one lane lets a car proceed into the intersection, only to have another lane bottle the car up and make a traffic jam. Let's all co-operate to eliminate these unpleasant traffic situations.

If you see a motorist stranded in such a position, slow up and let him through. It takes only a few seconds of your time. Make a habit of courtesy.

The Danger Of Inflation

The pound is the measure of weight. The yard is the measure of length. The bushel is the measure of bulk. No one is allowed to tamper with any of these measuring sticks.

The dollar is the measure of value. No one should be allowed to tamper with it. For when the value of the dollar fluctuates, nobody can know what anything is worth till he knows the exact value of the dollar, and by the time he has figured that out, its value might have changed. Under such circumstances trade becomes very difficult and can deteriorate into barter.

There is no more justification for allowing the value of the dollar to fluctuate than there is for allowing the weight of the pound, or the length of the yard, or the size of the bushel to fluctuate.

In former times the dollar was defined as a gold coin of a certain weight and fineness, and anyone caught altering the weight or the fineness of such coins was severely dealt with.

When paper money was first issued people hesitated to accept it, in spite of the fact that it was redeemable in gold. It was issued by the banks which were required by law to keep enough gold on hand at all times to redeem as much of their paper as was likely to be presented for redemption at any time. And it was the government's duty to watch that no bank issued more paper dollars than the law allowed.

But today the dollar is quite different — so different in fact that it should not be called a dollar. Our paper would be a better name, for that is all it is — a piece of paper. It is not redeemable in gold or anything else but another paper like itself. But the law says it is legal tender and must be accepted in payment of debt.

It is issued by the government through the Bank of Canada. It is used by the government to pay its debts or it is loaned to the chartered banks at interest. They lend it to the public at interest. Whoever sets it has to give value for it, except the Bank of Canada. When this paper money is presented to that bank for redemption all the Bank is required to give in payment is other paper money like it.

This is the essential difference between the paper money issued today by the Bank of Canada and that issued a generation ago by the chartered banks. Their money could be presented at any time and sold received in exchange. But today's money will never be redeemed in anything of intrinsic value.

Whether we have done it knowingly or not, the steps we have taken in regard to the issuing and the control of our paper money, are the first steps toward uncontrolled inflation. Whether or not we can stop there, and prevent further inflation is a question that only the future can answer.

Everybody is opposed to uncontrolled inflation. But everybody doesn't realize that uncontrolled inflation is the sum of many small things, each of which might have been controlled if taken in time. We are all asking for some of these things. The labor unions with their never-ending demands for higher wages than they are willing to earn, the farm organizations demanding higher than natural prices for farm products, the social reformers with their ever increasing demands for social welfare at the taxpayers expense, the politicians who hope to gain votes by thinking up new ways of spending the people's money, all these groups and many more, are pressing government to spend more money than the people are willing to pay in taxes.

The teacher at a little backwoods school was at the blackboard explaining arithmetic problems and was delighted to see that her dullest pupil was giving his complete attention. "At last he's beginning to understand," she thought. So when she had finished she said to him "you were so interested, Johnny, that I'm positive that you want to ask some question."

"Yes'm," drawled Johnny. "I got one to ask — where do them figures go when you rub 'em out?"

When all classes exert this kind of pressure, no democratic government can resist it. Our government is not resisting it today. The fault is our own. The remedy is in our own hands.

If the people of Canada would insist on spending their own money and not allow the politicians to spend it for them, if all classes and all groups in the country would be content to sell their labor or its products for what it is worth to the consuming public, if we would all be content to take no more out of the pot than we put into it, inflation could be held in check, for temptation to issue too much paper money would be largely removed.

New styling, power for 1956 Dodge Custom Royal: The introduction of a door hardtop highlights the styling changes of the 1956 Dodge Custom Royal line. From redesigned grille

Letter To The Editor

Editor of the Pioneer

Dear Sir: Premier Manning has recently concluded his talks on the "seven dispensations" which talks he has repeated over and over again, and in which he most definitely claims we cannot understand our Sacred Scriptures apart from this "dispensation" theory. We never hear this theory taught in our organized churches. It has never been accepted as a doctrine of the Christian Church. It is now over 50 years since Dr. John McVie, now Principal Emeritus in Toronto Bible College, was my teacher in New Testament exegesis. In a T.B.C. recorder he says, "No system of Biblical interpretation can be true which represents law and grace as different methods of salvation used by God in different ages, each excluding the other and contrary to it. In the last analysis this kind of teaching reflects on the character of the sovereign God and makes Him changeable. If redemption changes and becomes a different thing as the dispensations go on, the Author must also change with His methods of dealing with man. This theory decides that the Sermon on the Mount was not meant for the Church today, but for a future age when the Church is gone." The writer adds, "he has to confess that he does not know, in all the history of Biblical interpretation, a more preposterous piece of Biblical exegesis than this Scofield Bible note." (This is probably where Mr. Manning got his theories.) "Something must be wrong with a prophetic theory which has to represent the Gospel which Paul preached as a different message from the Gospel which the original apostles of our Lord were sent forth to preach." Judgement must await one, who by such confused Bible teaching makes void the glorious Gospel of our Lord by so dividing His message of Redemption; by calling one the Gospel of the Kingdom and the other the Gospel of Grace. The Christian message, which was, and ever shall be, is for all time and for all men it is not so divided. God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself. "He is the same yesterday, today and forever. True evangelism in which we all believe, is in no way advanced by such unsound Scripture exegesis. H. G. SMITH, Edmonton

Remember that on the College Campus, in the Tabernacle, a series of revival meetings are now in progress and will be for this week. Rev. Drunk, who has taught in one of the large Old Mennonite Colleges of America, is the speaker. He is outstanding in his exposition of Scripture, and is worthy of your attention. Try to come.

Bob Hale, Clarence Stauffer and Arnold Dietz have registered in the school during the last few days. We are glad to welcome them as students for the winter months.

Several persons in the community have registered in Rev. Bob Simpson's classes in Evangelism and Missions. More are speaking about it. Have you decided to do so? If so go on hand Thursday afternoon at 1:30 for the class in Evangelism, or at 2:30 for Missions. Some are taking advantage of both of these classes. When you come see the Registrar in her office in the main building and make the necessary arrangements for the same. The fee is very small.

Several of the students accompanied Roy Corless to the Indian Reserve west of Nordens Sunday for services there. Roy is serving as a missionary to this reserve and appreciates the help he received on Sunday. The reserve is in a beautiful part of the mountains, and all who go from time to time exclaim over its grandeur. We wish Roy every success as he works there among this tribe.

Miss Lois Suder, who is taking a business course in Calgary, was a visitor in her mother's home on Sunday. Mrs. Suder and Lois entertained Miss Celina Dedics and Miss Marlene Sharmar for dinner on Sunday.

We appreciate the friends who have brought fresh eggs to the College recently. Such contributions are particularly needed now that school has begun, and we are grateful to receive small or large donations of any farm produce of this nature. We have received vegetables also, and say a hearty thank you for them.

Friends in B. C. have sent apples to the school. Because of such contributions the College is able to keep its living cost at a minimum so that young people will be able to meet the expenses of attending here. Mrs. Arthur Eby, who is at present cooking for us, is doing a splendid job and using all that is brought in to the very best advantage in good, wholesome meals.

There may be persons in this community who would like to take a class or two in the regular courses. If you are interested in any subject whatsoever, contact the registrar at the College and she will be glad to help you decide on some subject that would benefit you in your church or Sunday School work.

Notes From D.A.

BY Howard J. Fulcher

In colder weather heat lamps are often used to provide warmth and dryness. This source of heat is good and many winter-tender pigs can be saved, it also proves satisfactory in breeding chicks.

Fire hazards can arise by careless use of infra-red heating lamps. Comparisons of 760 degrees F. were measured on the face of the lamp and 312 degrees F. in the socket. In tests using a 250-watt lamp, straw litter was ignited where the lamp was held one inch away. At three inches it charred, and scorched at six inches.

250-watt lamps should not be placed closer than twelve inches from the litter with additional clearance allowed where chickens or animals tend to work the litter into piles. This distance should be increased for larger lamps.

Lamps should be suspended on chains if there is any possibility of falling and protected by a hood with a lower hoop. The hoop will cause the unit to roll over if it should fall and keep the lamp from contacting the litter, and the hood protects it from breakage.

Since high socket temperatures are also fire hazards the hoods should have openings around the top to provide circulation for cooling. Porcelain sockets are usually cooler than plastic sockets.

The service cord, too, should be made of heat resistant material that will not deteriorate when exposed to heat as will ordinary rubber installations.

Infra-red lamps are very useful for providing heat but always should be used in a safe manner.
